

Graduate School of Global Governance Special Lecture Series ~ October 2023 ~

Focus and Goal

The central focus of this workshop is working collaboratively to strengthen each student's research plan. The larger goal is to help students develop their understanding of what research is and what research means.

We are going to deal with the topics including research questions, conceptual framework, and research method. We will read and discuss examples of research and attempts by scholars to define what makes for an effective research project.

*The content might be different than the last year special lecture depending on the attendees.

Schedule

Week1 Oct. 5 (Thu) 10:50~12:30

Week2 Oct. 12(Thu) 10:50~12:30

Week3 Oct. 19(Thu) 10:50~12:30

*Lectures are conducted online.

Registration

Read the QR code
or Click HERE
Before
September 25th

image: Freepik.com

Lecturer Dr. HAYASHI Akiko

Associate professor at Keio University and the author of Teaching Embodied and Teaching Expertise in Three Countries, published by the University of Chicago Press. At the core of her work is the question of how young children become appropriate, well-adjusted, functioning members of their society and culture, and the role of preschool education plays in these processes of enculturation and socialization. She is approaching these questions as an educational anthropologist and a developmental psychologist (see more information: akikohayashi.net)