Food security and nutrition is a critical issue that directly affects many human lives.

This time, Dr. Daniel Gustafson, Deputy Director-General for Programmes of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), a leading UN specialized agency in the field of food and agriculture, will visit Japan.

Seizing this opportunity, the Deputy Director-General will talk about FAO's work towards the achievement of world food security, the eradication of hunger, the contribution to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) as well as FAO's relationship with Japan. Everyone, particularly those who are interested in development cooperation, food security, malnutrition and working at an international organization like FAO, is welcome. Let us think about agriculture for sustainable society and the role of FAO and Japan in achieving Zero Hunger.
