When it comes to the best part of the program, I thought the company visiting would be really useful. It is really helpful to understand the working system in Japan in a short period by interacting with the workers in the company. All in all, this program has given me a wonderful experience. It is not only a program but a trip to totally understand the people and its culture. Finally, thanks to the staff of Meiji University, this program has successfully held.

The science and technology program was well structured and ran accordingly. We had lectures early in the morning and site visits in the afternoon which was great because we had time to explore and experience what Japan/companies had to offer. The organizers of the program together with the students we interacted with were kind, fun and approachable. The program has been insightful, rewarding and added fuel to my passion in engineering. I believe that the knowledge I got from the program will be of great use in my future career in South Africa and I have considered Japanese universities for my post-graduate studies.
