

With reference to educational activities, we (the universities) mean the kinds of specific activities outlined below. If you are planning such activities, we ask for your cooperation in considering measures to suspend or postpone the activity at the request of the university.

Educational activities that we request you to suspend or postpone in principle are below.

(1) Intensive classes (Both in Japan and overseas)

(2) Student Dispatch Programs involving Collective Action (Including ex ante and ex post facto learning, both in Japan and overseas)

(3) Seminar camps (In Japan and overseas)

(4) Regular curriculum activities, such as seminar activities, using the university's facilities in which approximately 25 or more students participate

* This does not apply to student placement programs that are primarily personal activities.

*For educational activities other than those mentioned above, if you cannot make a decision on the implementation of such activities, please contact the relevant sponsoring department.
