* If you intend to complete the programme by taking only courses in English, you are required to take courses hosted by Graduate School of Business Administration, Meiji University during the daytime.

2. MBS Mission

The basic purpose of the Graduate School of Global Business is to cultivate general managers possessing specialised knowledge and skills, analytical capabilities, value-creation skills, a broad perspective, strong ethical principles, leadership qualities, and a global outlook. These individuals are entrusted with the comprehensive management of organisations as managers and senior executives, contributing to the dynamism of the economy and society. Moreover, the school is dedicated to assuming a leadership role in society. To fulfill the trust bestowed on us by society, we are committed to nurturing the following cadre of business professionals:

- Executives, Successors, and Support Personnel for Family Business Development
- Innovative human resources for start-up businesses, including new businesses and second-stage start-ups.

To better fulfil its educational objectives, faculty members conduct research covering corporate and organisational management, as well as family business and startup business. The school provides a collaborative space for students and faculty, a platform for students' autonomous learning in practical and theoretical aspects, an avenue for career change, and a space for business matching.

3. Admission Policy

Qualities required of applicants

The Graduate School of Global Business aims to develop business professionals with specialist knowledge and skills, the ability to establish value, a broad perspective and a high sense of ethics, leadership and a global perspective. In the entrance exam, candidates are required to have sufficient motivation, potential and the ability to fulfil their professional potential, as well as a specific reason for applying and a concrete career plan. The presence or absence of special knowledge or skills related to the respective fields of study, as well as work experience, is not a prerequisite, but applicants are expected to have a strong awareness of business and management issues and a clear attitude towards setting independent learning achievement goals and learning processes, in order to develop human resources useful in management practice.

Eligible applicants

Applicants who have graduated or are expected to graduate from a university, or who are recognised by the school as having equivalent or higher academic ability are eligible. The school targets those who are responsible for the overall management of an organisation as a manager or senior executive of a company, or those who are in a profession requiring a high level of expertise (consultants, accountants, tax accountants, financial planners, etc.), those who are responsible for the management of family business development, successors and supporters, and those who are in new businesses, start-up businesses and innovations, including new and second-stage businesses. Work experience is not a prerequisite.

Points to note in the admission test

The entrance exam consists of a document screening and an interview. Prior to this, applicants are required to submit a statement of motivation, purpose of study and required expertise ('Application Form and Research Proposal'). In the interview, emphasis is placed on the expression of content, clarity of logic and other perspectives based on the aims of the school. The overall evaluation of the 'Application Form and Research Proposal' and the interview will be used to determine whether the applicants pass or fail.

(4) Paying from abroad via overseas remittance

① Screening Fee: 35,000 Japanese Yen

② Commission Fee:

Commission fees of both your local bank and Meiji University's bank will be charged for the overseas remittance, and the payer is responsible for all such fees. Check the total amount of fees and pay at your local bank. The screening fee will not be refunded once it is paid.

In addition to the Screening Fee, you must also pay the following fees.
Bank charges for remittance services at your local bank
Bank charges (JPY 4,000) for remittance services at Meiji University's bank
3. Any additional fees (if any; please check with your bank.)

The screening fee must arrive in the University's bank account by the application deadline. It may take a long time for the payment to reach the recipient's bank account after making a remittance, and applicants are therefore strongly advised to make the remittance in advance with sufficient time allowance. Payment can be accepted before the application period starts.

If there is any shortfall in the fees arriving in the University's bank account, your application will be regarded as a withdrawal and no fees will be refunded.
