

“Evaluation is necessary for the implementation of SDGs in communities”

SDGs×Community×Evaluation

Effective implementation of SDGs in communities utilizing evaluation as a tool

Admission
Free!

Speaker : Prof. Deborah Rugg, Claremont Graduate University

Commentator : Prof. Yuriko Minamoto, Graduate School of Governance Studies, Meiji University

Program evaluation is a tool to produce the evidence that communities need to understand what is and isn't working in solving their local problems. It is about inspiring ownership by the people. At the heart of localizing the ambitious global initiative envisioned under the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) framework, is ownership and participation by the people involved. This is why the SDGs are called a “people-centered” movement. We invite Dr. Deborah Rugg, one of the leading evaluators on the SDGs Evaluation in the United States, to deliver a lecture about Effective implementation of SDGs in communities utilizing evaluation as a tool.

Prof. Deborah Rugg

Dr. Deborah Rugg is a faculty member at Claremont Evaluation Center – New York (CEC-NY). She is the former chair of the UN Evaluation Group (UNEG) and former director of the Inspection & Evaluation Division, UN Secretariat. She was the senior evaluation adviser to the UN during the final negotiations of the 2030 Agenda. She serves on the executive board of the American Evaluation Association.

2018. 12/1(Sat) 10:30am-0:10pm [10:00am Open]

Liberty Hall, 1st Floor Liberty Tower building, Surugadai Campus, Meiji University

1-1 Kanda-Surugadai, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo

(3 minutes on foot from Ochanomizu Station of JR Chuo/Sobu Line and Subway Marunouchi Line)

Registration <https://eventregist.com/e/gsgs20181201> (You can use QR code as well)

If you have any questions on this event, please contact: Cosmo Takagi / Mail : ipe@meiji.ac.jp

