講演詳細（使用言語は英語です）

I will be talking about the dramatic changes Colombia has been experiencing during the last four decades. Improvements in terms of citizen welfare, access and quality of education, the promotion of cultural expressions such as music and others. The coordination between government, academia and the private sector to bust innovation, as well as the strong presence of Colombia as "the country of beauty" at international stages are showcasing the great potential of Colombia for the region and the world.
