

VI Meiji University Student Health Insurance

◇About “Meiji University Student Health Insurance”

Meiji University has its own student mutual aid health insurance union. The health insurance union pays a lump-sum benefit in order to reduce students' financial burden in case of becoming sick or being injured while they are enrolled at the university.

All undergraduate and graduate students of Meiji University are automatically enrolled in the health insurance union when they enter the university.

◇About “Healthcare facilities which have agreements with the union”

The student mutual aid health insurance union has agreements with about 160 healthcare facilities around the Surugadai, Izumi, Ikuta, and Nakano campuses as well as in major cities throughout Japan.

As Meiji University Student Health Insurance covers the cost of medical treatment that students receive at one of these facilities as an outpatient, students do not need to pay out of pocket expenses. They MUST present their student ID and the Japanese National Health Insurance Card for the expenses to be covered. (If they do not present both student ID and health insurance card, the student health insurance will not be in effect.)

Notes:

1. This system can be used for only outpatient medical treatment.
2. The student health insurance does not have agreements with pharmacies. Students must pay own expenses when a doctor writes a prescription for a pharmacy out of the healthcare facilities.
3. Whether or not a healthcare facility has an agreement with the union, students who become hospitalized are able to claim and receive benefits from the student health insurance (special hospital benefit).
4. Students can contact the Student Support Office on each campus (for the Nakano Campus, contact the Nakano Research and Educational Support Office) or the campus clinics if they have any questions.
